

As CTE Month® comes to a close, we're thrilled to showcase your celebrations across the nation and elevate our tools to empower you to communicate the value and promise of Career Technical Education (CTE) year-round.

Each year, CTE Month is an opportunity to:

- introduce CTE to audiences who may be unfamiliar;
- remind those familiar with CTE of its impact on learners and industry today through storytelling;
- and empower and equip those already in the CTE world to become CTE champions.

In doing so, we can continue to progress in turning our shared vision of CTE Without Limits, where every learner can reach success in the career of their choice, into a reality.

CTE Month Highlights

In our latest CTE Month blog post, you'll find highlights from this February, featuring creative and meaningful celebrations and events from states, partners, policymakers, and other champions of CTE!

Communicating the Value and Promise of CTE

Advance CTE offers fact sheets on various topics to increase your knowledge and help communicate key CTE facts and issues including:

Career Technical Education Contributes to Job Growth and Meets Skill Needs

A national survey of over 300 employers conducted by Advance CTE demonstrates that CTE is a trusted source of talent that aligns with employer needs and prepares learners with real-world skills to achieve success in the career of their choice.

Core Messages for Attracting Learners to Career Technical Education

The message triangle below is a visual depiction of the core message framework, which should be the starting point for any and all Career Technical Education (CTE) conversations related to engagement of parents/guardins and learners. The heart of the triangle is your certain theme or value proposition, which is reinforced by your three supporting messages — the three points of the triangle.

As a whole, these are the messages about the value of CTE that you should repeat each and every time you engage with parents/guardians and learners — or related groups or organizations — on the benefits of CTE.
